Re Item II

Priority

The range defined in claims 5, 6, 14 and 15 is not disclosed in the priority document, the priority for these claims is therefore invalid.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Reference is made to the following document:

D1: CAGNINI A ET AL: "Disposable ruthenized screen-printed biosensors for pesticides monitoring", SENSORS AND ACTUATORS B, ELSEVIER SEQUOIA S.A., LAUSANNE, CH, vol. 24, no. 1-3, March 1995 (1995-03), pages 85-89, XP4302108, ISSN: 0925-4005

D2: US4044193 (PETROW ET AL) 23 August 1977 (1977-08-23)

2. Independent claims 1, 10 and 18-21

2.1. The subject-matter of independent claims 1 and 10, an electrode comprising a composite of metallised carbon and an insulator, and a method for making such an electrode, is disclosed in document D1 and also in document D2, and therefore not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

2.2. The available prior art does not disclose the use of a metallised, particularly ruthenised carbon-insulator composite electrode in a chlorine sensor. However, it is certainly possible to use the electrode known from D1 as a chlorine sensor. Thus, the subject-matter of claims 18-21 is not new (Article 33(2) PCT).

3. Independent claims 7 and 8

As mentioned in point 2.2 above, the use of a metallised carbon-insulator composite

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY
(SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.

PCT/GB2004/005406

electrode in a chlorine sensor is not known from the prior art. However, the application discloses only a ruthenised carbon-insulator composite electrode as being particularly suitable for chlorine detection.

The broadly defined subject-matter of claims 7 and 8, which refer to the use of any metallised carbon-insulator composite electrode for chlorine detection, can therefore not be considered as a solution of a technical problem.

Thus, the subject-matter of claims 7 and 8 does not involve an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.

4. Independent claim 9

The use of a metallised carbon-insulator electrode as a component in a fuel cell is known from document D2 (example 1), the subject-matter of claim 9 is therefore not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

5. Dependent claims

Dependent claims 2-6, 11-17 and 22 do not contain any features which, in combination with an independent claim to which they refer, meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and/or inventive step (Article 33(2)(3) PCT).
